

The Society for Archaeological Sciences (SAS)

is a non-profit organization for students and professionals working with physical and natural science applications in archaeology, paleoanthropology, and museum conservation, and for anyone who supports such research.

Join us in our mission to understand the past using the tools of the future!

SAS will help you:

ADVANCE YOUR RESEARCH

Members are eligible for the Student and Early Career Researcher Research Support Award (up to US $500; twice a year).

NETWORK WITH THE RIGHT PROFESSIONALS

SAS partners with the conferences ICAS-EMME3, GMPCA, ISA, UKAS, SAA, CERM, SciX, and CLASMAC for 2022. This represents the largest and most diverse slate of partner programming in SAS history, building on last year's new partnerships with IOC and ARCAS. SAS members receive registration discounts for some events.

GET RECOGNIZED

Student poster awards (up to US $200) at the SAA, ISA, and other partner conferences.

PROMOTE YOUR RESEARCH

All SAS members can leverage our social media channels to showcase their latest publication for an engaged international audience through the SAS Spotlight program. SAS also seeks to recognize excellence in research by young professionals with the SAS and Journal of Archaeological Science (JAS) Emerging Investigator Award. The winning article will be given free access for one year in JAS and the lead author will be awarded US $500.

KEEP UPDATED

The latest archaeological science news is published in The SAS Bulletin Online in a timely manner and then summarized in a quarterly digest for members only.

CONNECT TO THE WORLD

SAS provides multiple social media channels, including the SAS Facebook group and page, Twitter, SASnet listserv, and LinkedIn group and page, with opportunities for members to develop new outreach and communications strategies.

BECOME A LEADER FOR THE NEXT GENERATION

The SAS Student Ambassador program offers students the opportunity to plan and carry out events, promote the archaeological sciences, and build their CVs.

ACCESS INFORMATION

Free access to the SAS-sponsored Encyclopedia of Archaeological Sciences (a US $875 value) & discounted rates for journal subscriptions (Journal of Archaeological Science, Archaeometry, and Archaeological and Anthropological Sciences).

To complete the online membership application, go to the SAS website:
<http://socarchsci.org/memb.html>
Membership fees are US $30 for regular members and US $20 for students.

